NOBTS MISSION STATEMENT

The mission of New Orleans Baptist Theological Seminary is to equip leaders to fulfill the Great Commission and the Great Commandments through the local church and its ministries. To equip leaders to fulfill the Great Commission and the Great Commandments through the local church and its ministries.

DIVISION OF CHURCH MUSIC VISION STATEMENT

Developing Kingdom-minded worship leaders for the local church.

CORE VALUES

DOCTRINAL INTEGRITY – This course expects to address the historical and theological foundations of congregational song and liturgy, noting its import for worship leadership and teaching.

CHARACTERISTIC EXCELLENCE – This course expects to develop worship planning and leadership skills to be more effective by building a historical foundation of the understanding and practice of worship.

SERVANT LEADERSHIP – This course expects to develop the attitude and practice of a servant in planning and leading worship through the study of historic models and cultural context.

SPIRITUAL VITALITY – This course expects to enhance the personal worship life of the student through the daily reading of, and interaction with, scripture. The student will also be inspired and challenged by the historical foundations of worship practice.

CORE COMPETENCIES:

WORSHIP LEADERSHIP – The student will be challenged to more effectively facilitate worship in practice through foundational knowledge of the history and influence of worship

SERVANT LEADERSHIP – The student will be challenged to demonstrate servant leadership in the discussion, planning, leading, and teaching of worship within the local church. The student will develop pastoral sensibilities for making good decisions as congregational leader and church music educator.

SPIRITUAL VITALITY – The student will be encouraged to enhance their own personal and corporate worship practice as they study worship history, theology, and its effect on worship practice. The student's personal worship life of the student through the daily reading of, and interaction with, scripture.

COURSE DESCRIPTION

This DMA reading colloquium consists of discussions covering the history of worship as it specifically relates to ministry and practice. Discussions will cover required reading for all colloquium members as well as texts that members have summarized individually. Discussions will be student led.

COURSE OBJECTIVES

The members of the colloquium will grasp the larger scope of worship history as it relates to the ministry and practice of worship. With this grasp of the various historical materials available, members will be better prepared for teaching and research in the field of worship history and worship ministry studies.

COURSE REQUIREMENTS:

1. In keeping with the Seminary-wide focus on the core value in this academic year, Spiritual Vitality, the members of the colloquium will be required to follow the Bible Reading Plan attached at the end of the syllabus, throughout the semester. Students should e-mail the professor each week indicating that they have followed the specified readings each week. The professor will be accountable to all students for completion of the task.

2 Attend each session. Because of the nature of the course, no absences are allowed. Students should bring lunch to each session. The colloquium will meet in the Sellers Music Building on the following days.

September 18, 11:00-1:00

November 6, 11:00-1:00

December 4, 11:00-1:00

3. Read the required texts as stipulated in the schedule below. Prepare for colloquium discussions by completing the assigned reading carefully and thoughtfully. Focus on interpreting the author's thought and the meaning of the historical materials for ministry and practice. Write down observations and questions. Review the assigned reading and your notes before the colloquium and be prepared to contribute to the discussion.

4. All students will read and write reviews of three assigned texts for each colloquium meeting. Each student will lead the discussion of one of the required texts (twenty minutes). Students may request which book they are to present to the colloquium. The student should e-mail the professor their first, second, and third choice from the required list for each session by the end of the first week of classes. Assignment of presentation responsibility will be made by the professor.

The critical reviews and presentations should include the following:

- Author's credentials and perspectives
- Summary and overview of material sufficient to give a clear, precise idea of the author's orientation and text's content
- Evaluation of format, ideas, issues, movements, and persons considered
- Strengths and weaknesses

The reviews should be from four to six double-spaced pages. Students should use footnotes for all cited materials, as specified in Turabian. Copies of reviews are to be given to the professor at the seminar session when the texts are discussed.

Presenters will be graded on selection of ideas for discussion, clarity in focusing questions or items for discussion, and skill in engaging the colloquium in dialogue.

5. Students will choose one book from the period text list to read and write a summary/outline for each colloquium meeting. This will provide other colloquium members with additional information about books they did not read. The summary should contain the purpose/thesis of the book and detailed summary/outline of all chapters. Copies of the text summary are to be provided for all colloquium members and the professor. The student should e-mail the professor their first, second and third choice from the topic list for each session by the end of the first week of classes. Assignment of summary responsibility will be made by the professor.

The student will be provided a brief overview presentation of their selected summary text to the colloquium. (Ten minutes)

COURSE EVALUATION

The final grade for this course will be composed of the following:

Critical Reviews	30%
Summaries	30%
Presentation and Discussion of Texts	40%
