The Baptist History and Heritage Society (BHHS) will hold its 2024 annual conference on May 20-22, 2024.

The Society is now accepting paper proposals for the conference. Proposals should be 500 words or less in length and may be on any topic related to Baptist history. Society members and non-members alike may submit proposals, but those selected to present papers at the conference are expected to join as members of the Society.

Proposals for themed sessions are also welcomed. A themed session should consist of two to three paper presentations on a unified theme and a suggested moderator. Proposals for creative sessions that are not traditional paper presentations are also encouraged. All papers will be scheduled within a 30 minute time period, including discussion.

Proposals for individual papers, themed paper sessions, panel discussions, and creative sessions will be accepted until January 15, 2024. All proposals will be accepted or denied by March 1, 2024.

Proposals must be submitted by email to the Society's executive director:
Dr. John M. Finley @ john@thebhhs.org
www.thebhhs.org

JOURNAL OF BIBLICAL AND THEOLOGICAL STUDIES

The Journal of Biblical and Theological Studies, a peer-reviewed, open access journal, invites scholarly submissions for a forthcoming issue on Ecclesiology. In this special issue, we seek a broad engagement with the Doctrine of the Church. Potential topics can range from the church's identity, its mission and/or how the church relates to the state and society, its sacraments, its unity and diversity, catholicity, ecumenism, or practical concerns that today's church encounters. For inquiries, contributors may email justin.mclendon@gcu.edu. Deadline for submission is 12/1/2023

The Baptist Scholars International Roundtable (BSIR) is excited to announce the attached Call for Proposals for the upcoming BSIR Annual Meeting, with the theme "Baptists and Global Missions," scheduled to take place at Christ Church, Oxford University, UK, from August 4 to 7, 2024. Lodging, meals, and assistance with travel costs will be provided to all accepted scholars. This support is intended to ensure that scholars from various backgrounds, locations, and institutions can participate in this enriching event.

The attached Call for Proposals document contains detailed information regarding the conference theme, submission guidelines, and important dates. BSIR invites you to submit your research papers and proposals by the deadline of January 1, 2024. We also encourage you to share this CFP broadly among your networks and institutions. BSIR welcomes proposal from all scholars, but we are especially interested in recruiting junior scholars and advanced Ph.D. students.

If you have any questions or require further information, please do not hesitate to contact david_chrisna1@baylor.edu.
