I. Mission Statement:

New Orleans Baptist Theological Seminary and Leavell College prepare servants to walk with Christ, proclaim His truth and fulfill His mission.

II. Purpose:

The purpose of this seminar is to lead students to develop an understanding of the skills essential for successful counseling relationship building and the principles of effective pastoral counseling techniques. Seminar participants will demonstrate understanding of the scope of pastoral counseling and skills necessary for an effective counseling ministry through assessment of case studies, role playing of counseling session and study of verbatims of actual counseling sessions.

III. Course Objectives:

1. Students will understand and identify basic counseling skills necessary for building effective counselor - counselee relationships and demonstrate the relational skills needed for developing those relationships.

2. Students will demonstrate an understanding of ways to facilitate personal, emotional and spiritual development, and family health.
3. Students will be able to access the problems of consellees and recognize the dynamics often presented in a counseling setting.

4. Students will identify and analyze counseling cases and suggest possible counseling assumptions from those cases.

5. Students will understand the process of crisis intervention.

6. Students will demonstrate an understanding of and an ability to use counseling techniques applicable for those in crisis particularly those of solution-focused and brief counseling approaches.

7. Students will develop a personal philosophy of pastoral counseling.

8. Students will choose and develop a counseling approach that will fit their personality and counseling needs.

9. Students will develop a personal counseling model that is Bible-based.

10. Students will demonstrate ability to apply the brief counseling model in common problem area: marital difficulty, anxiety/stress issues, depression, etc.

III. Course Method:

1. Lectures: Brief lectures from the professor will play a role in the seminar.

2. Research: Students will engage in extensive research under the direction of the professor.

3. Presentations: Students will make presentation of the findings of their research to the seminar.
4. Discussion: There will be a full discussion of the issues raised by the lectures and presentations.

IV. Course Requirements:

1. Students will attend all seminar meetings and participate in discussions.

2. All assigned work is due on the date specified. Please submit all assignments to Dr. Gregoire via email, with the assignments attached as WORD documents. No late work will be accepted.

3. Each student will read five (5) of the textbooks of their choice:

Optional Text:

4. Each student will do three (3) counseling sessions and write a verbatim of each session according to the verbatim instruction sheet (Syllabus Attachment). These could be counseling sessions that have already occurred. Due: January 6, 2020

5. Each student will prepare a “Philosophy of Pastoral Counseling” for presentation to fellow students (5-8 pages double-spaced). Due: January 21, 2020.

6. Each student will prepare a 3 to 5 page book review (review content inclusions are listed at the end of the syllabus) of any three (3) of the required texts and prepared to present and discuss the reviews with the class. Due: February 3, 2020.

7. Following the seminar, each student will complete a paper detailing a comprehensive counseling model they will implement in their own ministry. The paper should be at least 20, typed, double-spaced pages. The paper will be graded on content and style (See

Answer the following:

b. Critique the book.

c. Application to your ministry.

Verbatims:

Typed Counseling Sessions/ informal or formal setting (ie: spontaneous conversation in which one is seeking your help, expertise in a given situation or someone actually makes an appointment to meet with you (marital, premarital counseling, family issues, etc.). The student can use anyone (Except: your family) as long as you have that person’s permission and explain to the person(s) this is for an assignment and will not use the person’s real name (want to ensure confidentiality). The professor and teaching assistant will be the only ones to read the verbatims.
Outline of Verbatim:
a. Introductory paragraph: identify counselee (fictitious name), age, sex, marital status, appearance, other significant people if relevant, occupation, and family background.
b. Actual counseling dialogue using the following symbols:
   R=Counselor   E=Counselee
   The student does not need to record every word. For example if a client begins to ramble then you may summarize what the client said. General opening remarks of greetings are not necessary. If you pray with a client then you do not have to write the prayer but make notation that a prayer was said. Write out the session to your best ability without taking notes during the session.

c. A summary section with conclusions drawn from the session as well as any homework assignment given to the counselee. Provide a critique of self: areas of strength and areas of opportunities.
   (Hindsight is 20-20)

There is not a specific page requirement. Typically a verbatim is about 5-6 pages. The verbatims do not have to be written in Turabian or APA. Please provide a cover sheet.
