

Prospectus Evaluation and Approval Packet

Steps for Evaluating and Approving a Prospectus:

1. Guide, read, and offer feedback as the student develops the prospectus.
 - a. Much of this may occur as the student prepares his/her proposal during Supervised Mentorship II, but he/she will still need guidance to adjust the content and create a realistic timeline of completion.
2. Form a Prospectus Committee (2-3 faculty).
 - a. These faculty should most likely be in the same division, but if the prospectus involves interdisciplinary study, you can draw in appropriate faculty.
3. Once the prospectus meets your standards, send it to the Prospectus Committee.
4. Ensure that each member of the committee (including yourself) completes an individual Prospectus Evaluation Form offering feedback and corrections.
 - a. Faculty members should return these forms to the supervisor, who will provide the feedback to the student.
5. Work with the student to ensure the student makes all necessary revisions and corrections.
6. Once you are satisfied with the prospectus, you may choose to resend the edited prospectus to the Prospectus Committee to review again.
 - a. This is an optional step if the changes/edits seem significant enough.
7. Complete and submit the Prospectus Approval Form along with the Prospectus Evaluation Forms to phd@nobts.edu, and instruct your student to submit a final PDF copy to phd@nobts.edu.
 - a. No prospectus will be considered submitted until we receive the signed Prospectus Approval Form.
 - b. The ReDoc Office will communicate with the student concerning the approval.
8. If the student's work requires an IRB, the student must submit an IRB Request Form (online only). The prospectus must also be submitted to the IRB committee before it can be approved and submitted to the ReDoc office.

The prospectus committee is chosen by the faculty supervisor and consists of one or two faculty readers either in the division or who have expertise in an appropriate area of research pertaining to the dissertation topic. Once the student's prospectus is deemed acceptable to the supervisor and the prospectus committee, these faculty members will submit this Prospectus Approval Form to the ReDoc Office via email to phd@nobts.edu.
