Mission Statement

New Orleans Baptist Theological Seminary and Leavell College prepare servants to walk with Christ, proclaim His truth, and fulfill His mission.

Course Description

A survey is made of both the historical development of Christian education as well as the philosophical foundations that influenced that development. Receiving special attention are influential personalities, significant movements, and contextual matters that have shaped and continue to shape Christian education. Consideration is given to the impact of these historical factors upon contemporary Christian education ministry and its future expressions. Current philosophical trends are observed and evaluated.

Student Learning Outcomes

By the completion of the course, each student will be able to demonstrate...

1. Understanding of the scope of the seminar by describing in their own words the place of history, philosophy, and theology in the study and practice of Christian education.
2. Understanding of the historical precedents, philosophical perspectives, and theological constructs of contemporary Christian Education by doing such things as these:
 - a. Writing and presenting research on educational philosophy and incorporating historical and theological elements as these relate to contemporary Christian education thought and practice.
 - b. Preparing PowerPoint visuals and analytical questions to support the presentation of research to fellow students.

3. Understanding of the history, philosophy, and theology of Christian Education by writing a post-seminar paper "A Personal Philosophy of Educational Ministry" from seminar research and presentations.

Notice: The annual meeting of the Society of Professors of Christian Education (SPCE) is scheduled to meet Oct 26-28, 2023 in Chicago, IL. Since this organization is one of the primary professional organizations for our guild, students are encouraged to attend and make presentations. Presentation proposals should be submitted online. For more information, see <https://www.spceonline.org>

Pre Seminar Preparation

Pre Seminar Assignments: Review this syllabus and plan your work wisely. You may begin your reading and writing at any time. The faculty strongly recommends that you begin your research on the six major philosophical movements as early as possible. Assignments are due on or before each seminar meeting. You need to prepare for meaningful discussion in each seminar meeting. You will also need to anticipate an area of study for your dissertation or dissertation in professional practice.

Session One: August 25, 2023

In session ones students will engage in a discussion of classical and educational philosophies. The seminar will also include a review of the major historical movements and their relationship to Christian Education. Be prepared to dialog about the philosophical framework, implications and applications based on the seminar reading.

Submit an annotated list of seven (7) Talking Points based on the assigned textbooks (synthesize your reading). You may consider questions raised, personal insights, critiques, research gaps or general observations. Cite the reference and provide a succinct statement accompanied by a 2-3 paragraph explanation/rationale for each talking point. Talking Points may be single-spaced. Submit in Canvas by Aug 25.

You will complete the required reading and the learning exercises in the textbook

“_____” Indicate your completion of the workbook

Submit by Aug 25

During the seminar, faculty presentations will overview the nature of philosophy and its relationship to educational practice in the church and academy. Instruction on writing research questions will also be presented.

Assignments for the major paper will be made at the first seminar meeting.

Session Two: September 22, 2023

Before the second seminar session, review the Estep textbook and the Baptist Faith and Message 2000. Select and research three or four doctrines that will undergird your dissertation or dissertation in professional practice. Construct and submit a position paper on the doctrinal and theological foundations pertaining to the practice of Christian Education. If you have determined the nature of your research problem (Diss.) or problem in practice (DiPP) this paper will serve as the biblical/theological foundations chapter of your dissertation prospectus. In addition to Bible passages, your paper should include a variety of supporting theological texts and journals. The paper should be 10-12 pages in length.

Due: Sept 21, 2023

SBC Christian Educator Biography. Each student will research and write a biography of a significant Southern Baptist Educator. A list of potential figures will be posted prior to the start of the semester. You may select someone from the list or request a specific individual not on the recommended list. Research SBC historical documents, Sunday School Board materials, seminary histories to mine for candidates. Recommend names beyond those who will be identified and selected by the seminar participants. The time frame under consideration is 1920's to 2020's. To maintain continuity and coherence a chapter writing template will be provided. The goal of this exercise is to generate a resource and potential published text of the men and women who shaped Christian Education in the last century. "100 Influential Southern Baptist Christian Educators of the Last 100 Years." If you choose to write more than one biography you may do so.

Due: Sept 21, 2023

Session Three: November 3, 2023

Session Three features presentations of historical movements and educational philosophies. You will construct a 15-18 page paper and formal presentation articulating historical and philosophical foundations directly related to your dissertation or dissertation in professional practice. The chapter (or draft) you write will be included in the dissertation prospectus. Contents of the paper should provide support for the central ideas and tenets of your dissertation. Consider significant historical events and personalities, classical or modern philosophies that influenced the current state of the educational context you are addressing in your dissertation. (Your companion research paper should be submitted on or before the seminar meeting. Limit your presentation to approximately 30 minutes and include a ppt, prez, google slides, etc. visual and a listener handout.)

Due: Nov 2, 2023

Session Four: November 17, 2023,

Session Four focuses on content mastery and writing skills. Peers and professors will assess student papers prior to the seminar meeting and discuss findings and evaluation during the final session. An evaluation rubric is available on Canvas. You are expected to make corrections and submit a revised version of the research paper by the end of the semester. Due Dec 8, 2023

You will be expected to write at least three substantial questions concerning historical movements and/or educational approaches. All students will participate in a round table Q & A.

Post Seminar Assignment

The final assignment is a personal philosophy of Christian Education. The paper should address the following questions in light of the course content. Limit to 5-7 pages: Due: Dec 8, 2023

- The Role of Scripture in Christian Education
- The Role of God in Christian Education: Father, Son, and. Holy Spirit
- The Role of Pastor-Teacher in Christian Education
- The Role of Learner in Christian Education
- The Role of Method in Christian Education
- The Role of Outcome in Christian Education
- The Role of Social Impact in Christian Education: Church and World

Note: Do not wait until the end of the semester to write your philosophy

Post Seminar Evaluation

The seminar instructors will evaluate each student to determine an appropriate level of class engagement and overall student performance. For this assessment, students are not compared to other seminar participants or objective assignment evaluations. The evaluation is subjective and based on perceived potential, effort and progress of individual students.

Evaluation of Grade

The student's grade will be computed as follows:

Biblical/Theological Foundations Paper	25 points
Talking Points (textbook reading)	10 points
SBC Christian Educator Biography	15 points
Educational Philosophy Research Paper& Presentation	30 points
Personal Philosophy of Christian Education	15 points
Class Engagement and Student Performance	5 points
	100 points

Course Policies

Academic Policies: Academic policies relate to absences, grading scale, final examination schedules, and other topics can be found in the current online catalog: New Orleans Baptist Theological Seminary Graduate Catalog.

Absences: Absences are not permitted. You must see the Associate Dean, Research Doctoral Programs, for any exception to this policy.

Academic Honesty Policy: All graduate and undergraduate NOBTS students, whether on-campus, internet, or extension center students, are expected to adhere to the highest Christian standard of honesty and integrity when completing academic assignments for all courses in every delivery system format. The Bible provides our standard for academic integrity and honesty. This standard applies whether a student is taking tests, quizzes, exams, writing papers, completing Discussion Boards, or any other course requirement.

Assignment Formatting: Unless otherwise noted, all assignments are to be created in Turabian format. All written assignments must be Word documents, written in third person unless otherwise instructed, and created in 12 pt. Times New Roman font. PDFs will be accepted.

Assignment Grading: Assignments requiring grading will be returned to the student within a reasonable period of time. Feedback on graded assignments is provided through the grading rubric located in the Learning Management System. You will find comments in the grading rubric, as well as on graded paper assignments.

Assignment Submission: All assignments are to be submitted to the Learning Management System by 11:59 p.m. of the due date unless otherwise indicated. Do not send files as attachments via email to the professor. For technical reasons, this mode of file transmission is extremely inefficient.

Cell phones: Phones must be silenced during class time. The use of a cell phone for the purposes of texting, email or other social media is not permitted. Anyone who is observed text messaging or using an electronic device during class may be asked to drop the course

Classroom Decorum: Your participation is required for every session. You are expected to:

- Dress appropriately and in accordance with the NOBTS Student Handbook.
- Turn off cell phones and not accept any calls and/or text messages during class.
- Utilize laptops and other technology for class purposes only.
- Maintain confidentiality when someone shares personal information.
- Come to the sessions with a constructive point of view, prepared to interact with the readings and resources related to the course topic.

Disabilities and Accommodations: New Orleans Baptist Theological Seminary does not discriminate against applicants/ students on the basis of personal disabilities. The Seminary, in voluntary compliance with the American Disabilities Act, will provide reasonable institutional accommodations, modifications, and adjustments to enable and empower students with disabilities to participate in Seminary programs and activities to the fullest extent possible. However, NOBTS cannot support accommodations that place undue hardship on the Seminary or its resources or which alter the essential requirements of curriculum and academic progress. While the seminary does not provide direct assistance to students in the form of equipment or personnel, accommodations may be made by individual professors at their discretion. These accommodations usually take the form of early access to lecture materials in electronic format and additional time to complete tests and assignments. The most efficient way to pursue such accommodations is to provide the Director of Testing and Counseling with documentation of the condition for which you seek accommodation, an explanation of helpful accommodations received in the past, and a description of the specific accommodations you desire. The Director of Testing and Counseling will document your request and communicate on your behalf with the professors who teach the course(s) for which you are registered. The seminary reserves the right to consider each request for “special” accommodations on a case-by-case basis pursuant to the criteria enumerated above.

Laptops: Laptops may be used in class only for taking notes and other activities assigned by the professor. Other activities are strictly prohibited.

Late Assignments: Late assignments will be accepted with a penalty. Expect a 10% grade reduction for each week late. Approval to submit a late assignment must be obtained.

Netiquette: Netiquette refers to appropriate online behavior in the Blackboard, Canvas or other online discussions. You are expected to demonstrate appropriate Christian behavior when working online on Discussion Boards or whenever interaction occurs through web, digital, or other electronic medium. A spirit of Christian charity is expected at all times in the online environment.

Plagiarism: NOBTS has a no tolerance policy for plagiarism. Plagiarism in certain cases may result in expulsion from the seminary. See the NOBTS Student Handbook for definition, penalties, and policies associated with plagiarism.

Recording Policy: Recordings of class, including any audio and/or video recordings, regardless of the media or format, and regardless of the intended or actual use, are not permitted without prior written permission of the professor. The class will be notified in advance should any such recording be approved. This policy is intended to protect the privacy of the students.

Revision of the Syllabus: The course syllabus is not a legal contract. Any syllabus revision will be preceded by a reasonable notice to students. The standards and requirements set forth in this syllabus may be modified at any time by the professor. Notice of such changes will be by announcement in class or by email notice.

Withdrawal from the Course: The administration has set deadlines for withdrawal. These dates and times are published in the academic calendar. Administration procedures must be followed. You are responsible to handle withdrawal requirements. A professor can not issue a withdrawal. You must do the proper paperwork to ensure that you will not receive a final grade of "F" in the course if you choose not to attend once you are enrolled.

Additional Information

Canvas and CampusNexus Student: You are responsible for maintaining current information regarding contact information on Canvas and CNS. The professor will utilize both to communicate with the class. Our Learning Management System (Canvas) and CNS do not share information so you must update each. Assignment grades will be posted to Blackboard.

Correspondence with the Professor: Every effort is made to respond to emails and phone calls within 24-48 hours, excluding weekends. Please feel free to contact the professor(s) with any question you may have regarding this course.
