PhD Independent Study Proposal

An independent directed study provides a unique opportunity for a student to work one-on-one with a reader. Directed studies enable a student (1) to engage in specialized research under a reader's supervision or (2) to cover an area not covered in the regular seminar offerings during a student's scheduled seminar work. Students may take only one directed study during his or her program. Any exception must be approved by the student's faculty supervisor and the PhD Director. Regularly-offered seminars are not to be taken as a directed study. The purpose of the directed study is to pursue areas beyond the scope of regularly scheduled seminars.
